

FOURTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

When we apply for a job, we present our best credentials to the employers: we are graduates of these prestigious and exclusive schools; that we graduated as summa cum laude; that our previous jobs were like these and we present known people as our references so that employers may be impressed. In other words, we present ourselves that we are the best of all the best. On the other hand, if we are employers or owners of a certain company and we want to pirate good personnel from other companies, we also want to make good proposals to the ones we want to hire. We say to them: "I will double your salary, I will give more benefits. After one year, you will be promoted. "In other words, we tell those we hire we are the best. Jesus is different.

In today's gospel, Jesus is asking and hiring, too, men to become His disciples and prospective missionaries of His word. Jesus tells them: "Come and follow me so that you will be persecuted, so that you will be tried in court; so that you will live simply and walk humbly, so that you will have a difficult life. If you are very lucky, you will be killed too and you will work for me not only 8 hours a day but 24 hours a day. When we apply for a job to Jesus Christ, we do not say: "I am the best, so hire me," but rather we say: "I am the worst. Make something good out of me." That is why, very few of us apply for a job with Christ as missionaries of His word because we experience not pleasure but pressure and we could say: "We are the best," but rather we say: "We are the worst of all." We could not announce to all that we are saints but rather sinners.

As Jesus sends the seventy-two other disciples to preach His word of salvation, He also calls each one of us to share in the task of evangelization. Whatever be our situation and status in life, whether we are parents, teachers, employees, employers, professionals or students, we are also being sent by Christ to be missionaries of His word of salvation. It is wrong to say that preaching the word belongs exclusively to priests and bishops, religious brothers or sisters. In that sense, we are the ones saved and you are not. Actually, by virtue of our baptism and confirmation, we share in the mission of Christ by imitating Him and by proclaiming through the words of mouth and the deeds of our actions. (Fr. Saju Oreethaparambil,C.Ss.R.).

"Your word is a lamp to my feet and a light to my path." Psalms 119:105

DEVOTION TO OUR LADY OF MOUNT CARMEL is bound to the history and spiritual values of the Order of the Brothers of the Blessed Virgin Mary of Mount Carmel and is expressed through the scapular. Thus, whoever receives the scapular becomes a member of the order and pledges him/herself to live according to its spirituality in accordance with the characteristics of his/her state in life.^[16]

Disclaled Carmelite Kieran Kavanaugh summarizes this spirituality:

The scapular is a Marian habit or garment. It is both a sign and pledge. A sign of belonging to Mary; a pledge of her motherly protection, not only in this life but after death. As a sign, it is a conventional sign signifying three elements strictly joined: first, belonging to a religious family particularly devoted to Mary, especially dear to Mary, the Carmelite Order; second, consecration to Mary, devotion to and trust in her Immaculate Heart; third, an urge to become like Mary by imitating her virtues, above all her humility, chastity, and spirit of prayer.^[17]
